FUND DESCRIPTION

The investment objective of the Horizon Active Income Fund is income.

The fund's flexible strategy aims to improve the risk/return characteristics of traditional fixed income strategies by utilizing non-traditional asset classes. This active fund may use high yield bonds, MLPs, preferred stocks, bank loans and foreign bonds, in addition to securities typically found in traditional fixed income portfolios. Accordingly, the fund combines the goal and strategic purpose of a Core Bond Fund with the flexibility of a Non-Traditional Bond Fund.

ASPECTS OF THIS ACTIVE FUND

Strategy: A single investment in the Horizon Active Income Fund accesses a large universe of global investment opportunities. Horizon considers a broad selection of ETFs in order to access a wide range of market, style, sector, country and currency exposures.

Management: This fund is actively managed, using flexible asset allocation techniques to navigate volatile market swings.

Risk: For Horizon, managing risk is just as important as investment selection. Assembling portfolios of diversified asset classes and having the ability to make timely adjustments in allocation weightings may help mitigate market risk.

Footnotes

All share classes are “no-load” shares; there are no fees or commissions related to the sales of these shares, but other fees and expenses do apply to a continued investment in the Fund and are described in the Fund’s current Prospectus, which should be carefully reviewed before investing. Shares of the Fund are presently offered through financial intermediaries who have been approved by the Fund. Please refer to your financial representative for detailed information on purchasing or redeeming Investor shares.

The Bloomberg Barclays Aggregate Bond Index is an unmanaged index that is generally considered representative of the U.S. Investment Grade Bond market.

The Morningstar Multisector Bond Category contains portfolios that seek income by diversifying their assets among several fixed-income sectors, usually U.S. government obligations, U.S. corporate bonds, foreign bonds, and high-yield U.S. debt securities.

You cannot invest directly in an index and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charge.

Disclosures

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. In addition to the costs, fees, and expenses involved in investing in ETFs, ETFs are subject to additional risks including the risks that the market price of the shares may trade at a discount to its net asset value (“NAV”), an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact a Fund’s ability to sell its shares. The Fund may invest in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. These risks are greater in emerging markets. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. Investment by the Fund in lower-rated and non-rated securities presents a greater risk of loss to principal and interest than higher-rated securities. Investments in Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) involve additional risks such as declines in the value of real estate and increased susceptibility to adverse economic or regulatory developments. MLPs are subject to certain risks inherent in the structure of MLPs, including complex tax structure risks, the limited ability for election or removal of management, limited voting rights, potential dependence on parent companies or sponsors for revenues to satisfy obligations, and potential conflicts of interest between partners, members and affiliates. Investments in mortgage backed securities (MBS) include additional risks that investors should be aware of such as credit risk, prepayment risk, possible illiquidity and default, as well as increased susceptibility to adverse economic developments. The Fund may also use options, which have the risks of unlimited losses of the underlying holdings due to unanticipated market movements and failure to correctly predict the direction of securities prices, interest rates and currency exchange rates. The investment in options is not suitable for all investors.

The fund’s investment objective, risks, charges and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The summary and statutory prospectuses contains this and other important information about the investment company, and they may be obtained by calling 866-371-2399 or visiting www.horizonmutualfunds.com. Read them carefully before investing.
